

SAFETY SIGNAGE

Proguard carries a comprehensive range of safety signage for virtually any situation. All signages either complies with all current local legislation or is accepted as in common use and meets or comply with international legislation ISO3864-2 with bilingual of Bahasa Malaysia & English textures.

Although a lot of signs are visually similar, it is the test of time that will tell how well they are made. Our quality safety sign work for you year after year, conveying safety instruction and information on for a safe workplace without needing replacement.

Information on International Standard 1503864-2 Safety Colors and Safety Signs

There is a need to standardize a system of giving safety information that rely as little as possible on the use of words to achieve understanding. Continued international trade, travel, and more recently in the extensive mobility of labour requires a common communications method for safety information.

This International Standard prescribes the use of specific colors, geometric shapes, and graphical symbols for the design of safety signs to be used as an integral part of any accident prevention, emergency provisions, and risk reduction programme.

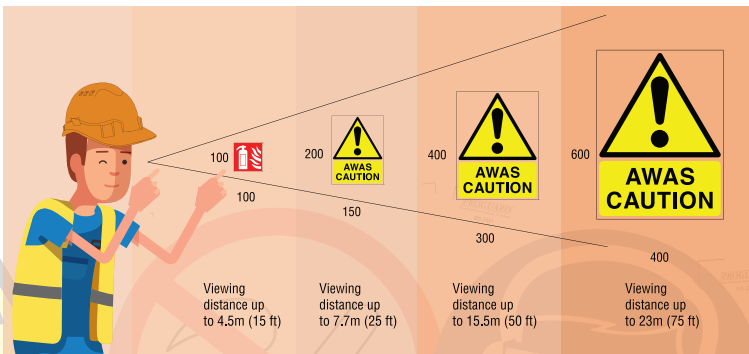

Health and Safety Regulation on Safety Signs and Signals

Permanent signboards must be used for signs relating to prohibitions, warnings, and mandatory requirements, location and identification of emergency escape routes, and first aid facilities.

Signboards or a safe colour must be used to mark permanently the location and identification of fire-fighting equipment.

Photoluminescent Emergency Escape Signs

- These photoluminescent material emits a clear and visible glow when there is power failure. It requires no battery or any other triggering source for glow emission. Upon exposure to light, natural or artificial, this photoluminescent material absorbs and stores light energy and then in the absence of light, this stored light will be released to give off a luminous glow over an extended period of time, generally several hours.
- A photoluminescent system is designed to provide continuous, visible direction to ensure orderly, expeditious, safe evacuation of a facility in the event of power failure or of smoke obscuring the exits or other disasters. Additionally, this system may assist the Fire Department personnel entering a facility to extinguish a fire and / or to assist in evacuation by providing a guidance pathway in areas of darkness.
- It can also be enormously useful in highlighting access to fire equipments or control during periods of sudden darkness caused by fire or power failure or other emergency situations. In short, the purpose of Photoluminescent Escape / Guidance systems in the event of sudden darkness caused by the loss of power or smoke in building is to help minimize building occupants' disorientation and panic, by providing a photoluminescent escape route marking system.
